

NATIONAL INFODAYS

NIB participated in ŠtartinUP 2024. ŠtartinUP is a sports & social event organized by the University of Primorska to kick off the new academic year. The event was organized on 5 October in Koper.

At the event, both freshmen and senior students connected with each other and with more than 55 local organisations, associations, institutions and companies that participated in the event. The goal was to get students interested in their services and future job opportunities.

The National Institute of Biology (NIB) collected information from students to complete two surveys: one on their interest in nature conservation and the second on their knowledge of cosmetic products containing marine bio-components.

More than 180 students participated in the surveys and engaged in discussions with the NIB about nature, the ocean and blue biotechnologies.

As well students were invited to participate in the #SolveTheChallenge2024 campaign organised by Natural Heritage Mission.
