JAN 2024
SEP 2026

The project

Coastal areas are exposed to the influence of multiple anthropogenic pressures, resulting in ecosystem degradation and species loss.

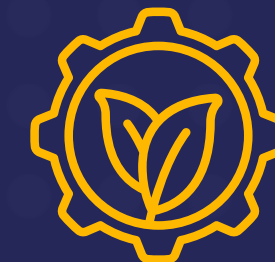

COASTRUST project aims to establish environmental and coastal stewardship strategies in target areas, as multi stakeholder governance mechanisms, for:

biodiversity protection

sustainable use of natural resources

a better management of natural environments

Main outputs

Local strategies for coastal stewardship: One strategy per target area including goals–actions–timeframe–financial resources.

Coastal stewardship Methodology: A path for the design of stewardship actions to sustainably use, manage, protect or restore the marine and coastal environment with the involvement of all relevant stakeholders.

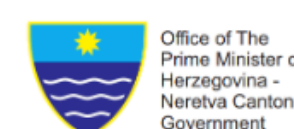

Mediterranean network for coastal stewardship promotion committed to test and transfer coastal stewardship to coasts and seas.
